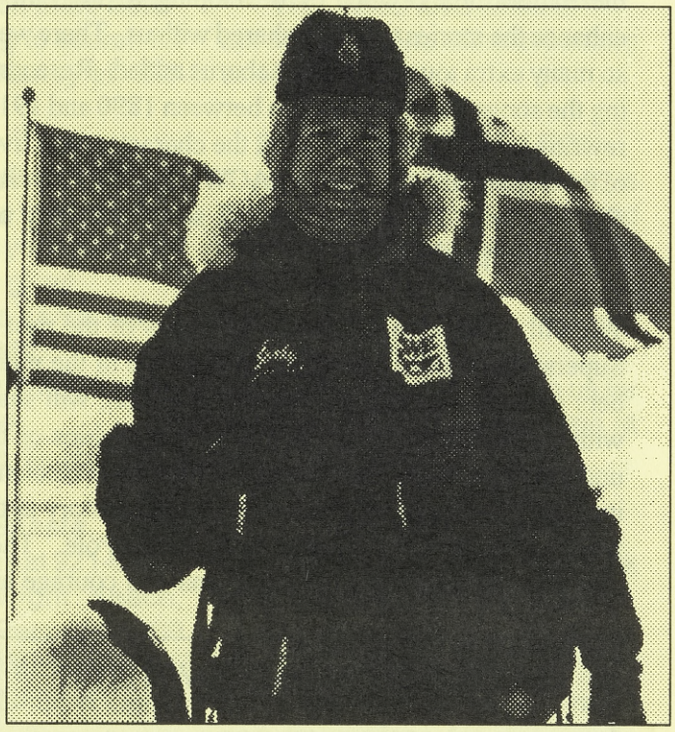
THE FIRST WOMEN TO REACH THE SOUTH POLE ON FOOT



Position: 83 Degrees 12 S/78 Degrees 41W
Mileage: 14.3 Day # 25
Thursday, December 3, 1992
-16 Degrees C - Hardpack, Good traveling snow

We hauled today. The hardpack snow helped us move our weighty sleds. Having a half-day off helped me take care of my sore legs, blistered lips, swollen face and sore chest (coughing from all the dryness). You really feel 14 miles of constant travel (we went until 7 p.m.) - dragging and being yanked around by the sled - the neck gets so stiff. I tried to keep my head up as much as possible to see the beautiful wisps in the sky as the sun peered through. The frozen snow and ice shines brilliantly - it's overwhelming. At times I cannot believe I am here. What an incredible desert this is!

Position: 83 Degrees 22/S78 Degrees 52 W
Mileage 12.8 Day # 27 (100 miles to the Thiel Mtns.)
Saturday, December 5, 1992
-15 Degrees C - Strong NNE headwinds

Radio Night - Ann relayed messages about our position, our frostbite and chest coughs. The Amoxicillan is a good thing to take for this virus. Have to be careful. Need rest - What a joke! Hopefully some mail will be dropped at the Thiels. Our radio communication was good. It's odd to work with/against time the way we do. We live by the clock daily. We get up at 6:00 a.m. every day to haul for 10 hours with 15 minute scheduled breaks. In so many ways time is relevant out here. The wind and sun are constant. It's always cold. Things are always frozen. There is no day or night to speak of - as we normally know it. Only that which we have created. This place is continually changing. The terrain is shaped by the harsh piercing wind - year after year after year.
-- Sunniva Sorby, Antaractia

Sunniva Sorby is a member of the American Women's Expedition. She made history on January 14, 1993 when she a became the first woman to ski to the South Pole. See the slides and hear the poignant story of the courage of the members of the American Women's Expedition .

FROM THE STEERING COMMITTEE

We are very proud to have produced our March Women's Herstory program, featuring the talent of Sacramento. Thank you to long time SACWNite Dell Richards (author of Superstars: Twelve Lesbians Who Changed the World) for introducing us to our foremothers. And a special thanks to the Sacramento Women's Chorus for the extraordinary work of developing a program to enhance the stories that Dell shared with us. There were so many extra touches that the chorus added. Researching the songs that were written between 1890 and 1910, rewriting some words to reflect the characters and lives of the Superstars, costuming SACWN members to visually represent the superstars-- all so wonderfully enhanced the production.

We will move in April from Superstars of the past to Superstars of today. Sunnivia Sorby, one of the members of the American Women's Expedition, will share with us the slides of her journey, the hardships of the undertaking and the lessons they learned from challenging their bodies, minds and hearts to make history as the first women to travel unaided to the South Pole. Their story is poignant -- filled with drama and courage and stamina. But perhaps the most telling story of all is how they accomplished this incredible feat without corporate or federal funding. Expeditions of this magnitude do not take place without corporate dollars -- hundreds of thousands of dollars. But the women did it on a grassroots level that perhaps has never been seen in the world of exploration and discovery.

Unfortunately, because the American Women's Expedition did not receive the funding they so desperately needed, the team is still $200,000 in debt. They must raise money to cover this debt before they can continue their dream of further expeditions.

Sunnivia will be bringing tee shirts, sweatshirts, caps, mugs, and other momentums of the trip for our purchase. We will also ask for donations for the Expedition. Checks payable to the American Women's Expedition (AWE) are tax-deductible. The SACWN ticket price has been set to cover only the expenses of producing the event.

Women make things happen. AWE is a testimonial to that. Hopefully some day it will be possible for women to pursue their exploration dreams with corporate sponsorship. So that once they have reached their destination, the most difficult part of the journey will be over.

SACWN CALENDAR FOR 1994

Friday, April 22, 1994
Sunniva Sorby, Member of the American Women's Expedition
Capitol Plaza Halls, Fraternity Room

Skiing almost 700 miles for 67 days and pulling 200 pound sleds each, the four women of the American Women's Expedition battled temperatures as cold as -50F and winds up to 100 miles an hour. See the slides and hear the heroic story of these incredible women.

Sunniva Sorby was in charge of medical supplies and acted as research coordinator for the expedition. In spite of the fact that she was the newest and youngest member of an expedition that took over five years to plan, team leader Ann Bancroft credits Sorby as the "emotional glue" that held the historic expedition together.

Friday, May 20, 1994
Comedy with Mimi=Freed and Liz Olsen
Capitol Plaza Halls, Silver Room

Fresh, sassy and outrageous, we will welcome two of the brightest new comedians on the San Francisco Scene. Join SACWN for an evening of laughter!

APRIL'S SUCCESSFUL SACWNITE

Our April Successful SACWNite, Julia Mullen, was born 5200 feet above sea level in Anaconda, Montana, a copper smelting town of 10,000 people in the Rocky Mountains. "The town was so small and my family so large", says Julia, "that everyone knew a Mullen". My older brothers and sisters had a reputation for being mischievous, and people expected the same from me". Julia was born 6th in the line of 10 Mullen children.

"Growing up in Anaconda gave me a deeply embedded appreciation and love of nature. We were 15 minutes from four ski areas. Actually, I just had to go out the back door to ski. Anaconda was a safe place to be. We walked the streets at all hours of day and night. While everyone did have a gun rack in their pickup, the guns weren't meant to shoot people."

"I also knew that I was part of a community, an experience that only a small town can provide." After high school, Julia journeyed from Anaconda to Bozeman to study at Montana State University. During the summers of her sociology studies, she lived with a sister in Mississippi and worked on the construction of a nuclear power plant.

Working on her Master's Degree at the University of Iowa in Iowa City was the first time she moved away from her family. But Iowa just wasn't her style. "They have 13 times more hogs than people in Iowa. It is flat, and coming from the Rocky Mountains that was just too geographically different. I was tired of the cold and the humidity, so when I graduated, I looked into doctorate programs at schools that were on "a coast".

Thus her next move was to Santa Barbara where she received a Doctorate in Sociology from the UCSB in '85. Those years were followed by post-doctoral work in community mental health at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Wisconsin. On her way to San Francisco in 1989, she stopped in Sacramento to see friends, and stayed.

"I decided I was going to get out of academia and do social good. But it was impossible to pay the school loans on the salary of a community activist. So when a position with the State of California became available, I went to work for the Department of Developmental Services (DDS). And now I do feel that I'm doing social good". Julia is a Section Chief and works with the Supported Living Project at DDS. Her work involves assisting people with developmental disabilities to live outside institutions. On behalf of the state, she manages a project that supports people with developmental disabilites and assists them in living in their own homes and in making decisions that control their lives.

"Being a lesbian impacts all aspects of my life. I feel that it gives me a unique and special insight into women and men. Accepting myself as a lesbian felt like coming home, like knowing something deep and true about myself." Julia come out in 1985 on the beach in Santa Barbara.

Success to Julia is "being able to experience the rapture of being alive - which means living each moment - which means savoring the mundane things about life - the sweetness of life."

WHO WILL IT HURT WHEN I DIE?

A Seminar on Probate and "Living" Trusts presented by

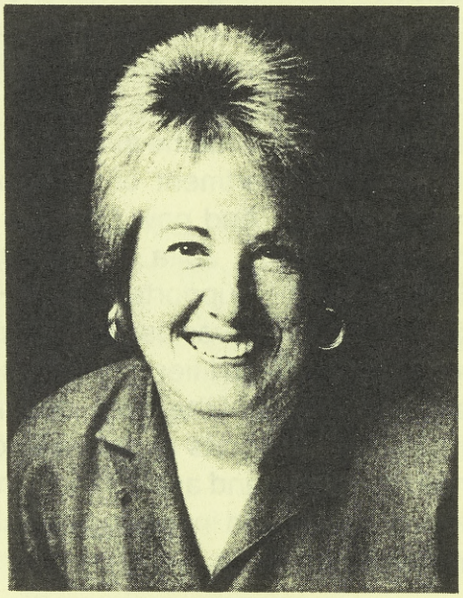
NAN GOODART

You've seen her on Channel 10! You've heard her on The Tom Sullivan Show! Maybe you've read her award-winning book, Who Will It Hurt When I Die? A Primer on the Living Trust. Now come to this seminar-just for the lesbian and gay community-where Nan and her associate, lawyer Theresa Boschert, will answer your questions and tell you what you need to know about wills, probate and "death taxes," powers of attorney, and "living" trusts.



IF:

--you've been wishing for a way to blend your lives in a tangible, legally recognized way,

--writing a Will is about all the legal work you think you need to do,

--the story of Sharon Kowolski horrified you but you've done nothing to assure it won't happen to you,

--the "stuff" you own is worth more than $60,000 before subtracting what you owe on it,

--you would like to help your parents plan so that taking care of them and their affairs will be as easy as it can be ... for them AND for you, or

--you wouldn't know a "living" trust from a dead one,

THEN DO NOT MISS THIS SEMINAR!!!

You do NOT have to worry and wonder, what if . . . ? Come and learn how you can use the laws as they are right now to protect and empower yourself and your loved ones.

WEDNESDAY, May 11, 1994
7:00 to 9:00 p.m.
Beverly Garland Hotel

The seminar is complementary, but space is limited. To assure a seat, or for further information, call 422-1404.

We all know that many wonderful relationships begin between women who meet at SACWN. A special congratulations on their first anniversary to the two wonderful women who are graciously sharing the following with you:

THE GAL WITH THE DARK WAVY HAIR

Back in February of '93
Being single and fancy free
Around the room I went a greeting
At the monthly "Top Ten" meeting
I saw the gal with the dark wavy hair.

She set up a dinner invite
Of four gals that very night
We had a lot of fun and talk
I went home but in no way forgot
That gal with the dark wavy hair.

Went to church for a women's retreat
And who do you suppose I did meet
We caught each others glances
I was unaware of my chances
With the gal with the dark wavy hair.

A SACWN event we planned to meet
Sat so close, bodies touching, it was so sweet
We talked in the parking lot, it felt so right
I didn't want to say goodnight
Neither did the gal with the dark wavy hair.

Been a lot of fun being with you
Some ups and downs because we are so new
And also the Lord put me to the test
But, gave me support from the very best
The gal with the dark wavy hair.

A year I'll cherish my whole life through
Because of memories evolving around you
It doesn't matter if we have lots of money
Can you guess who is now my honey
Yes, the gal with the dark wavy hair.

SACWN SAYS.....

A FEW SELECT VIDEO - SACWN has a few videos to rent to members for $5 a tape for three days or a weekend. Titles include: Out in Surburbia, Two in Twenty (3 volumes), and Salmonberries. Call to arrange for rental.

RECRUITMENT FOR POLICE CADETS - The city is recruiting for Police Cadets/Officers and Community Service Officers. Written test scheduled for April 2 and 9. Call 264-5726.

AB 2810, KATZ; SPONSORED BY THE LIFE LOBBY - This legislation will create the status of Domestic Partners at a state level. A hearing in the Assembly Judiciary Committee is scheduled for April 17, 1994. The votes of Assemblymember Phil Isenberg (Sacramento) and Margaret Snyder (Modesto) are critical. Just one phone call or letter would make a difference. You can even get a sample letter from the Lambda Letters Project. Call Boyce at 965-6851.

ENCOURAGE YOUR FRIENDS TO JOIN SACWN - With your SACWN membership, you save $5 on your ticket to each SACWN event. By paying your annual fee, you provide the upfront funds for the staffing of the phone line, development of the newsletter, all the administrative functions of the SACWN office including the production of events.

When non-subscribing friends ask you to get their ticket for an event, use the opportunity to encourage them to join, so they too can take advantage of the reduced price. The budget for events includes a projection of tickets sold to non-subscribers. Paying the appropriate amount keeps the ticket price low for everyone.

THANKS TO MGW - And Linda Birner for the donation of a weekend at Lillie Langtry's in San Francisco for our networking game. Congratulations to the winner Paula. More fun to come!

IT GETS SO EASY TO TAKE THE BOOKSTORE FOR GRANTED - When a lesbian arrives in a new town, either to relocate or just to visit, where does she go first? To the feminist bookstore. When you are in a new city without your lesbian paperback guide, where do you head to find out what is happening? To the feminist bookstore. Need a roommate? Want a therapist? Undoubtedly, there will be a good referral at the bookstore.

We have come to expect so much from our feminist bookstore. We want it to be the warmest and friendliest place in town. We want it to be a community center as well as a source of the perfect gift. We want it to be political, service oriented and always have one more ticket to the concert. That's a lot to expect from a business owner, even if she is a feminist.

These are hard economic times in California. And small business are carrying a disproportionate amount of the struggle to stay alive. Let's examine the economic reality of small businesses today.

You've no doubt heard the new stories about the small town economies that have been displaced when a "WALMART" comes to town. Unable to compete with the deep discounting from Sam's place, the hometown business closes and "downtown shopping districts" disappear forever.

If we spend our money at the discounters, rather than in our women, gay and lesbian owned stores, the same scenario will occur. Sales in some of "our community" stores are already down almost 10% over previous years.

What would happen if we lost our bookstore? We would also lose a part of our culture. The discounters will not buy the lesbian books, cards, jewelry that we expect from our stores. Economic censorship will be the result. Discounters will not sell our concert tickets, house our community bulletin boards or keep a referral directory.

What can we do? Think of our advertisers first when you want to make a purchase, any purchase. Let's keep our money in the community.
